

Johannes Gutenberg Universität

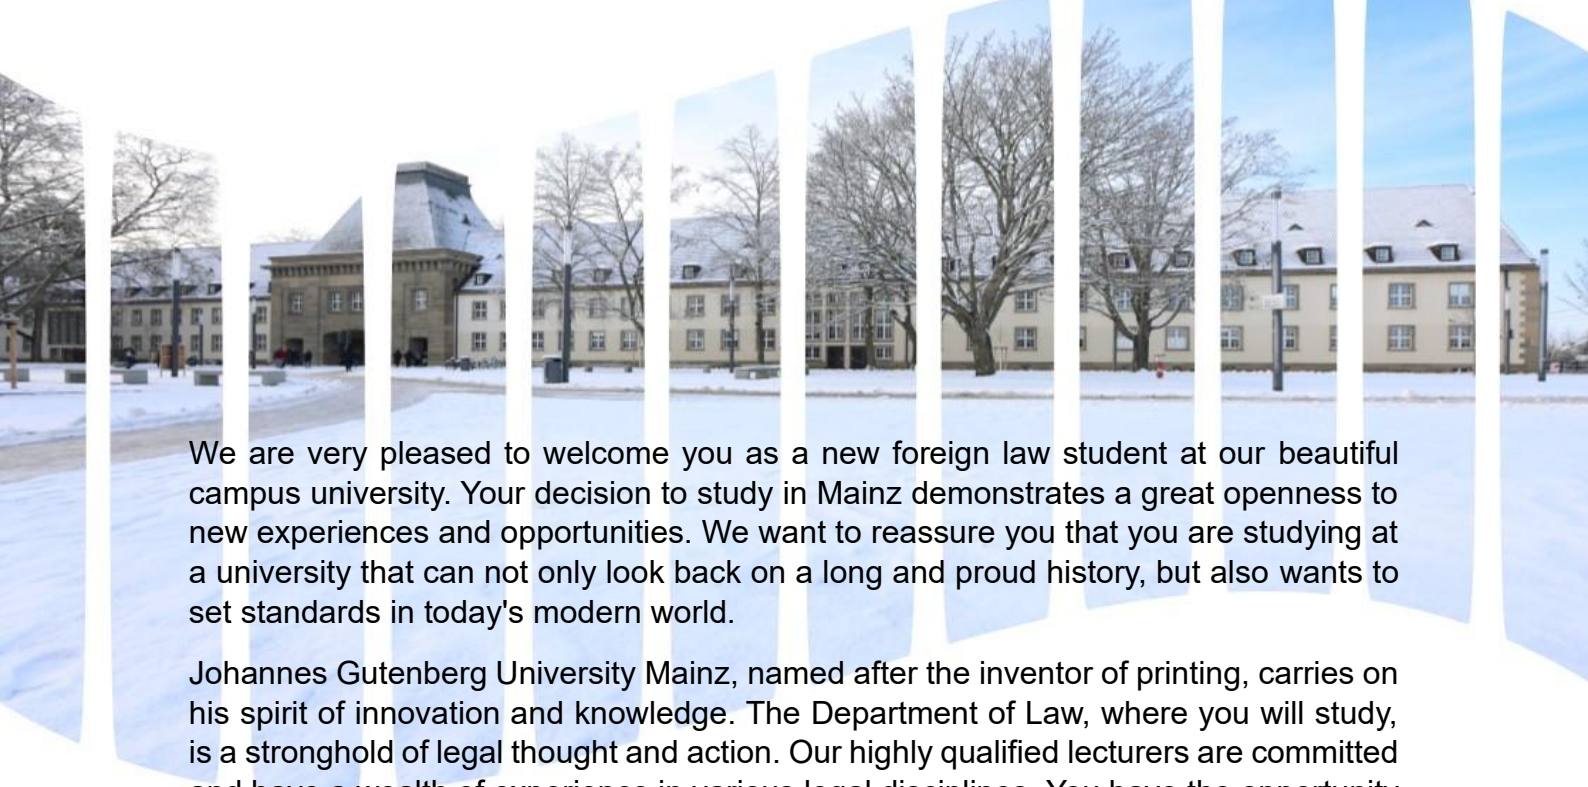

Welcome to the Department 03
of Law at the Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz.

Winter semester 2023

01.10.2023-

31.03.2024

We are very pleased to welcome you as a new foreign law student at our beautiful campus university. Your decision to study in Mainz demonstrates a great openness to new experiences and opportunities. We want to reassure you that you are studying at a university that can not only look back on a long and proud history, but also wants to set standards in today's modern world.

Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz, named after the inventor of printing, carries on his spirit of innovation and knowledge. The Department of Law, where you will study, is a stronghold of legal thought and action. Our highly qualified lecturers are committed and have a wealth of experience in various legal disciplines. You have the opportunity not only to benefit from their knowledge, but also to develop practical skills that will be of great use to you in your future professional life.

Mainz itself, the lively capital of "Rheinland-Pfalz", offers you an inspiring environment. The city is rich in culture, history and vibrant student life. The combination of tradition and modernity creates a unique atmosphere for enriching studies. At the same time, the "Rheinhessen" region, where Mainz is located, is known for its picturesque vineyards, historic villages and the warm hospitality of its inhabitants.

In addition to academic engagement, we promote cultural life on campus and in the city. Our university offers a wide range of student organisations, cultural events and intercultural exchange opportunities that will help you gain not only knowledge but also life experience.

The Law International Office and your subject coordinators are there to help you with any questions or concerns you may have. Your satisfaction and success are important to us and we want to make sure that you can fully benefit from and enjoy your time with us.

Once again, a warm welcome from our side!

To make your stay as successful as possible, we have put together a guide to help you during your stay abroad. Don't hesitate to contact us if anything is unclear.

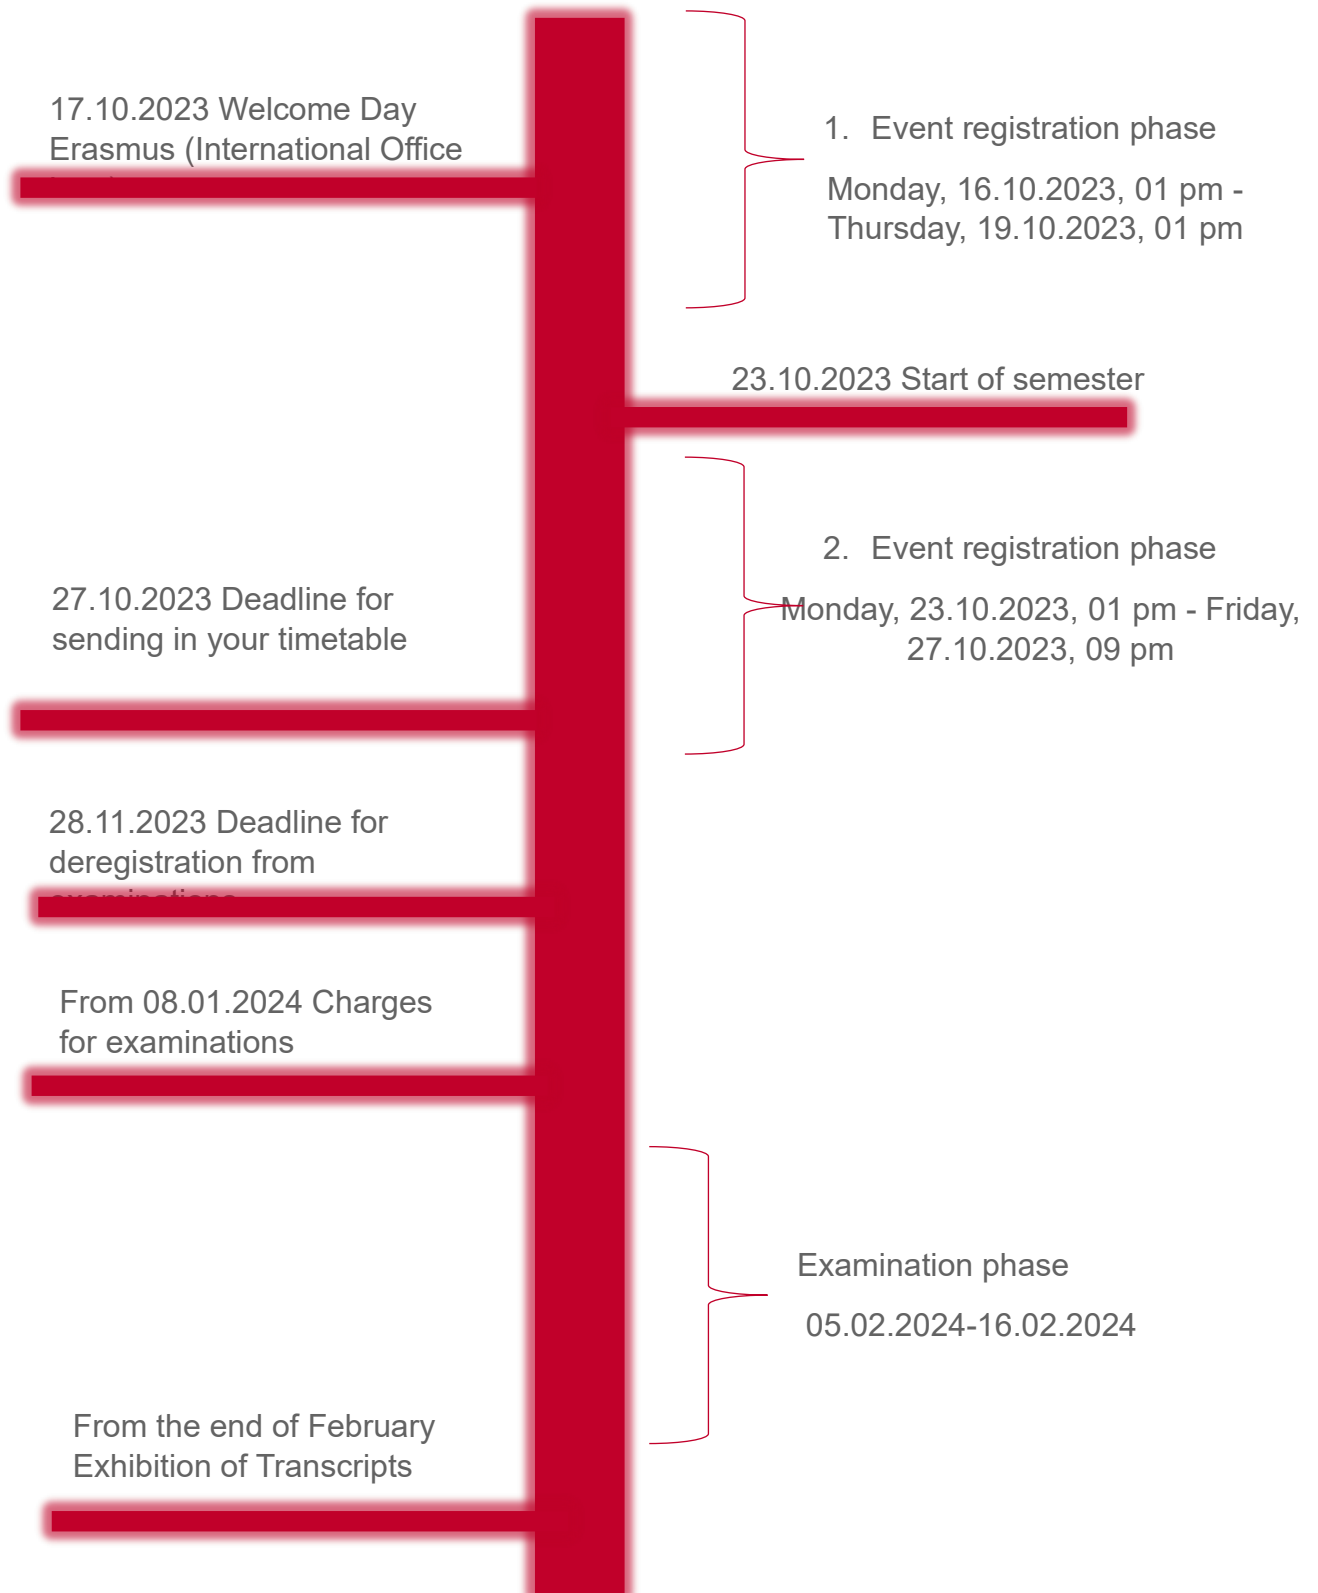

Your International Office Law Team

Overview of deadlines

Start of the semester

Activate Jogustine Account

In order to be prepared for your studies at the Johannes Gutenberg University, you need to register on our online platform Jogustine and activate your account. If you have not received any information yet, please contact GIS (Gutenberg International School).

Find out how to activate your Jogustine account here:

Activate Jogustine Account

Create timetable

Next, you can put together your timetable. We want to give you the possibility to create your timetable as individually as possible. This handbook will help you step by step to create the perfect timetable. If you need personal support, you can contact Mr Klaus Mayer, who will be happy to help you.

Course options

Here you can find the courses you can choose in the winter semester. A little information in advance:

How many courses should I choose?

You should complete at least 20 ECTS points per semester. That's about 10 hours per week, which you can organise freely. It is important to us that you can organise your time with us individually, so you are almost completely free in your choice of courses.

But be careful, your home university may expect a higher ECTS score from you during your Erasmus stay. You should always discuss this with the relevant departmental coordinator at your home university and choose your courses accordingly. Also, check if you have to choose compulsory courses such as a language course in addition to your subject-specific courses.

We would like to highly recommend the course "Comparative Law Workshop". There you will compare different legal systems with many other German and foreign students. You will learn about the German legal system directly from German students. This intercultural exchange not only expands your legal knowledge, but also enables you to make friends across borders. Of course, you have the flexibility to drop the course from your schedule at the beginning of the semester if it does not meet your expectations.

Which courses can I choose?

Here you will find a list of the courses you can choose from. If you click on the name of the course, you will automatically be redirected to further information. You can also find all the important details on our timetable.

If you would like to attend courses outside the law school, you can find an offer from the Gutenberg International School here: GIS offer

Of course, you can also attend these non-subject-specific events. If you are interested, please contact Klaus Mayer for advice. Please enter all non-subject-related courses in your timetable form under "Non-subject-related courses". Here you will find all courses offered by the departments of the Johannes Gutenberg University and information about which courses you can attend: Courses by course language.

However, please always observe the requirements of your home university.

How do I create my individual timetable?

For the final preparation of the timetable, we will provide you with a form (on our website) which you should fill in and send to erasmus-jura@uni-mainz.de by 27.10.2023.

Please make sure to name and save the file as follows:

Surname-Firstname-Semester-Year.pdf

Example for Jane Smith in the summer semester 2024: Smith-Jane-SoSe-2024.pdf

You can change your timetable until 03.11.2023. Then simply send us your new timetable again.

Register for courses

In the next step you can register online for most of your selected courses. On the following pictures you can follow step by step how the registration works. Our roadmap shows you how to register for the course "BGB AT II" and how to check whether it was successful in the next step.

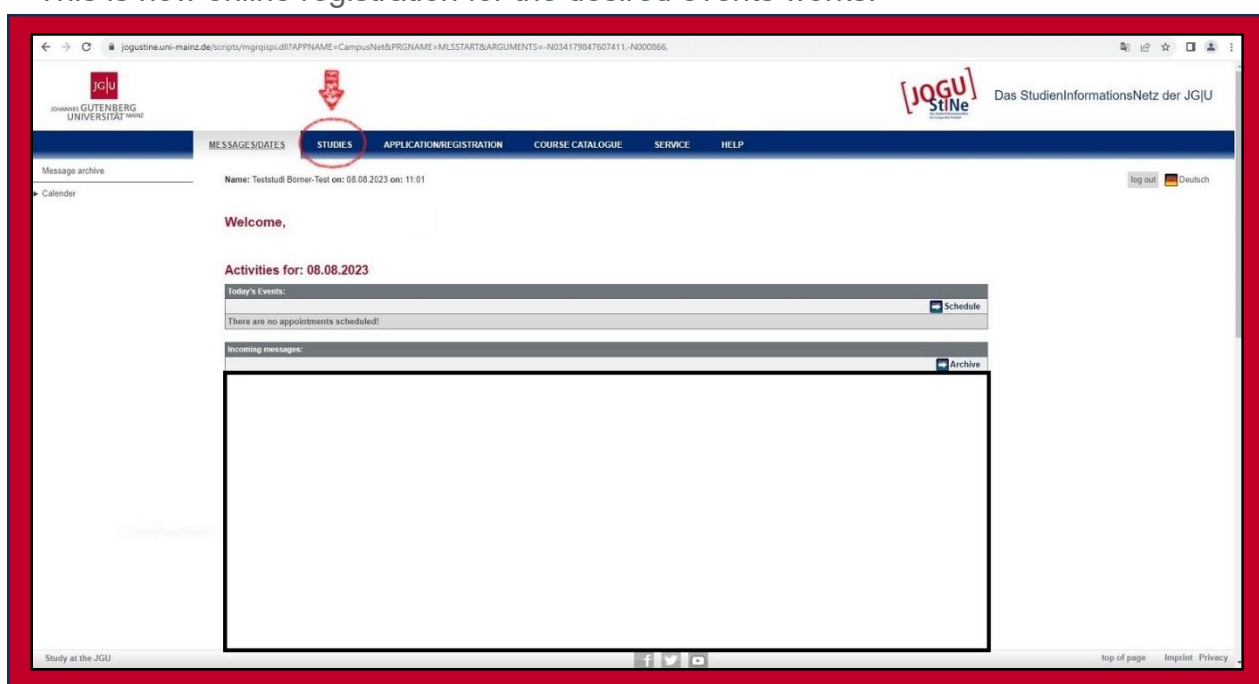

Registration must take place within the following deadlines:

Monday, 16.10.2023, 13 h - Thursday, 19.10.2023, 13 h

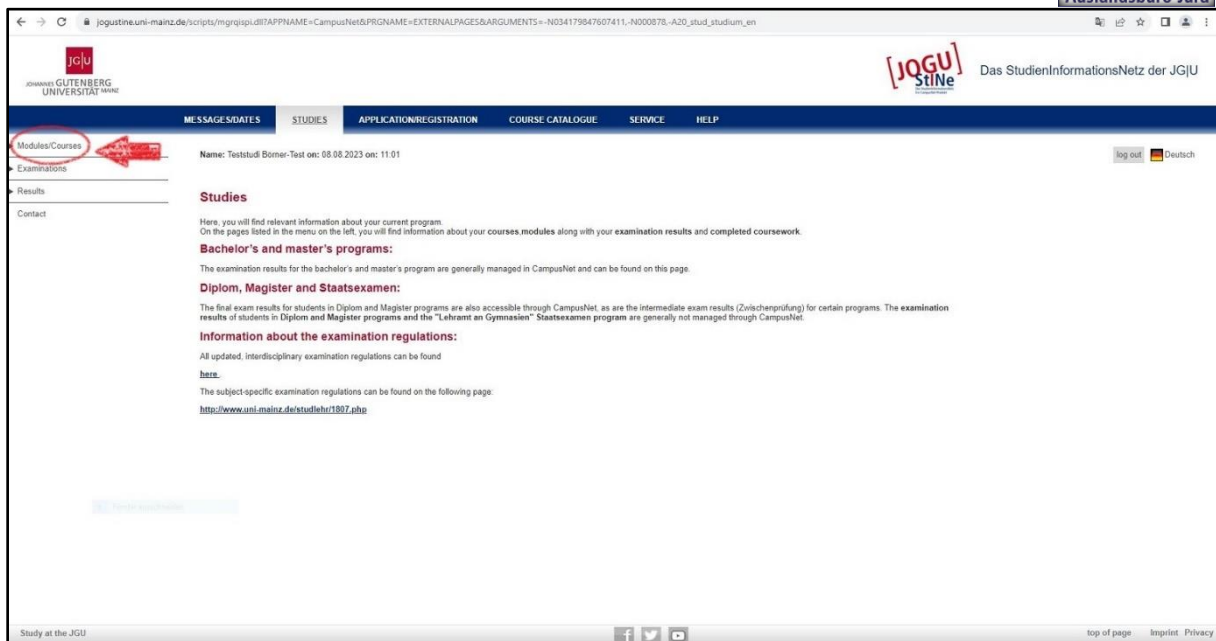

Monday, 23.10.2023, 13 h - Friday, 27.10.2023, 21 h

Subsequent registration is only possible via the International Office.

This is how online registration for the desired events works:

After you have logged into Jogustine, click on "Studies" (see red arrow in the picture above). If Jogustine shows you the German terms, you can easily change the language in the upper right corner. Just click on the small flag and select "English".

Here, you will find relevant information about your current program. On the pages listed in the menu on the left, you will find information about your courses/modules along with your examination results and completed coursework.

Bachelor's and master's programs:

The examination results for the bachelor's and master's program are generally managed in CampusNet and can be found on this page.

Diplom, Magister and Staatsexamen:

The final exam results for students in Diplom and Magister programs are also accessible through CampusNet, as are the intermediate exam results (Zwischenprüfung) for certain programs. The examination results of students in Diplom and Magister programs and the "Lehramt an Gymnasien" Staatsexamen program are generally not managed through CampusNet.

Information about the examination regulations:

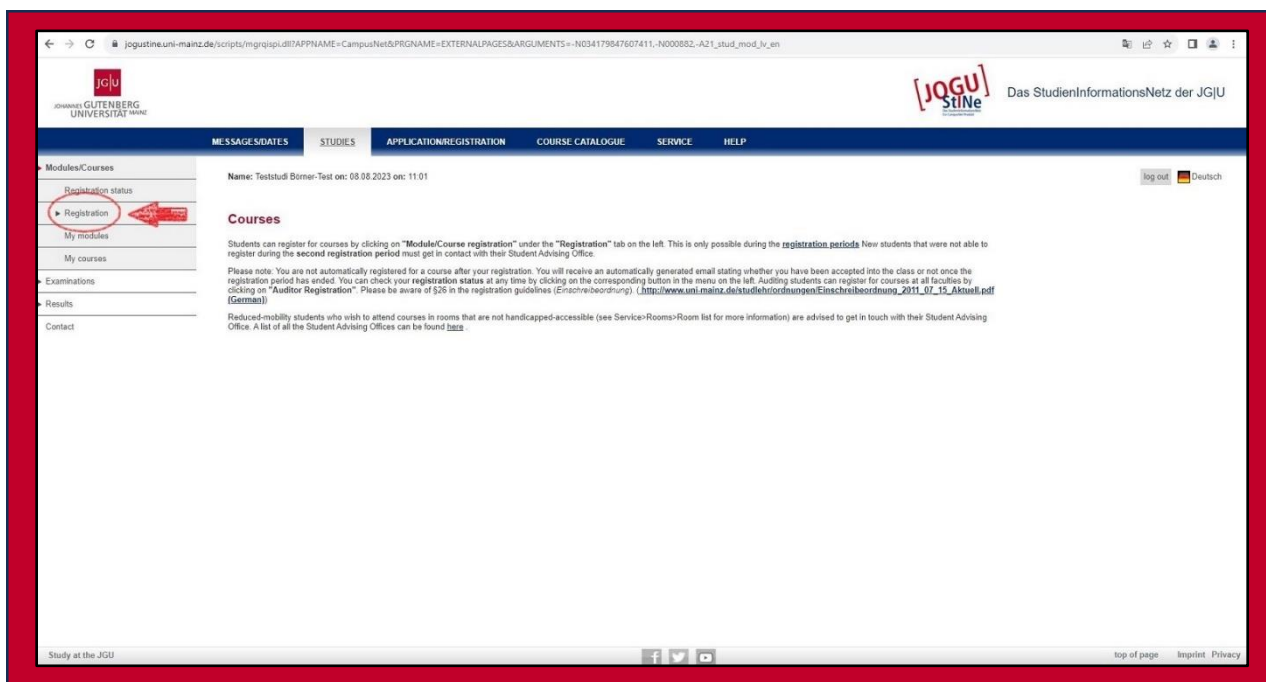

All updated, interdisciplinary examination regulations can be found here.

The subject-specific examination regulations can be found on the following page: <http://www.uni-mainz.de/studienfhr/1807.php>

Courses

Students can register for courses by clicking on "Module/Course registration" under the "Registration" tab on the left. This is only possible during the registration periods. New students that were not able to register during the second registration period must get in contact with their Student Advising Office.

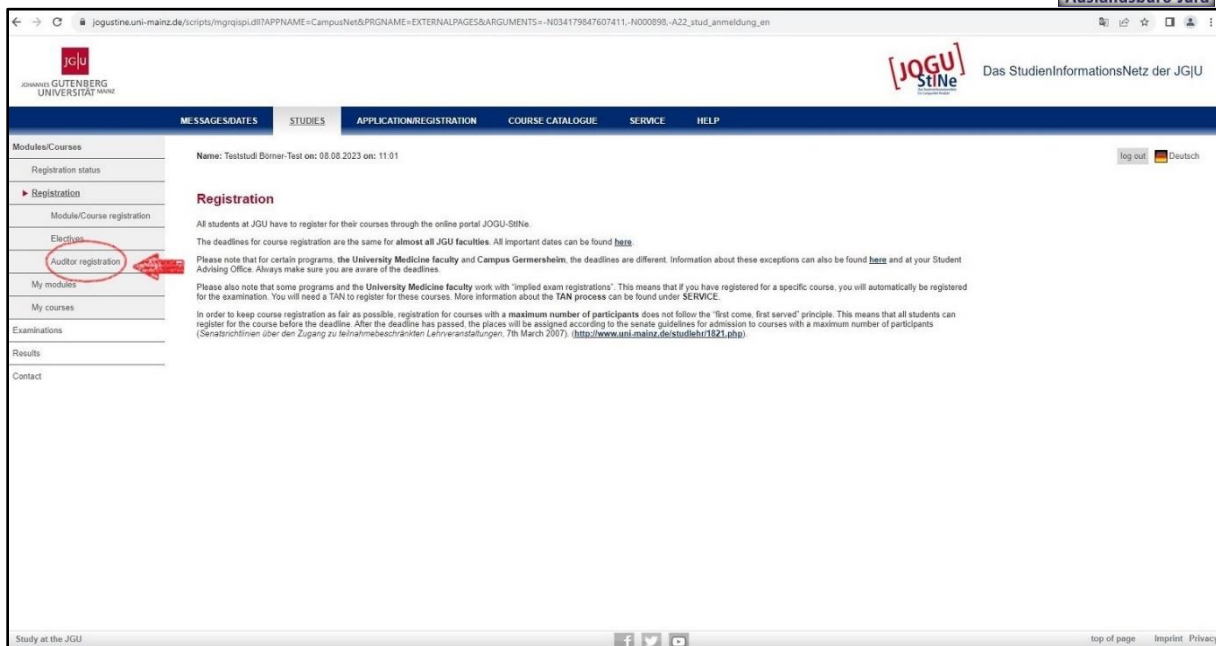

Please note: You are not automatically registered for a course after your registration. You will receive an automatically generated email stating whether you have been accepted into the class or not once the registration period has ended. You can check your registration status at any time by clicking on the corresponding button in the menu on the left. Auditing students can register for courses at all faculties by clicking on "Auditor Registration". Please be aware of §26 in the registration guidelines (Einschreibeordnung). (http://www.uni-mainz.de/studienfhr/ordnungen/Einschreibeordnung_2011_07_15_Aktuell.pdf) (German)

Reduced-mobility students who wish to attend courses in rooms that are not handicapped-accessible (see Service/Rooms>Room list for more information) are advised to get in touch with their Student Advising Office. A list of all the Student Advising Offices can be found here.

Registration

All students at JGU have to register for their courses through the online portal JOGU-StiNe.

The deadlines for course registration are the same for almost all JGU faculties. All important dates can be found here.

Please note that for certain programs, the University Medicine faculty and Campus Gernersheim, the deadlines are different. Information about these exceptions can also be found here and at your Student Advising Office. Always make sure you are aware of the deadlines.

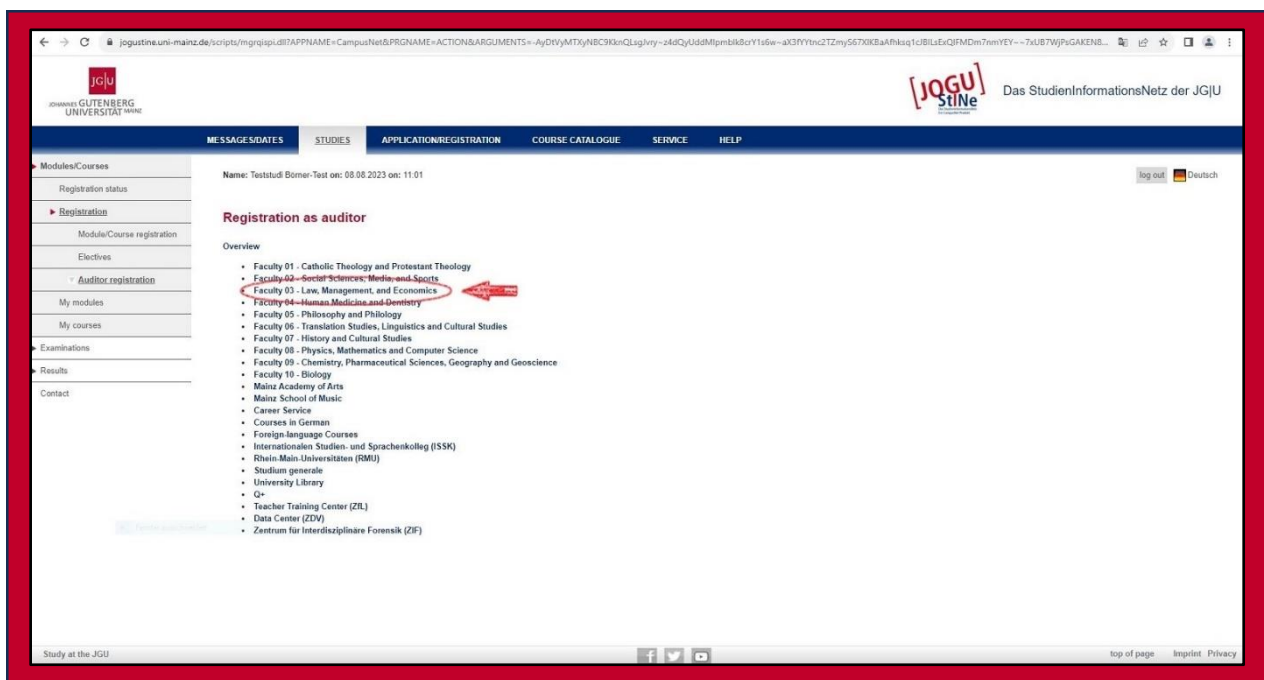

Please also note that some programs and the University Medicine faculty work with "implied exam registrations". This means that if you have registered for a specific course, you will automatically be registered for the examination. You will need a TAN to register for these courses. More information about the TAN process can be found under SERVICE.

In order to keep course registration as fair as possible, registration for courses with a maximum number of participants does not follow the "first come, first served" principle. This means that all students can register for the course before the deadline. After the deadline has passed, the places will be assigned according to the senate guidelines for admission to courses with a maximum number of participants (Senatsrichtlinien über den Zugang zu lehrplangebundenen Lehrveranstaltungen, 7th March 2007). During the semester:

Now you have chosen all your courses and the semester can begin. Below you will find some information about your new university. So that your life here in Mainz and at the Johannes Gutenberg University will be even better.

Tips for studying in Mainz

The ReWi

ReWi stands for "Law and Economics", because these two departments not only form the Faculty 03 where you are now studying, but also share two buildings on campus. The new ReWi (ReWi I) with the large lecture hall RW1, a cafeteria, a library and common rooms, and the old ReWi (ReWi II), which is directly opposite and mainly houses offices in addition to some seminar rooms.

Free time and personal development

Campus map

Of course, it can always happen that you have a lecture outside the ReWi buildings. Our large campus can get a bit confusing. That's why our campus map is so important, so that you don't lose track of everything.

Would you like to take a break from studying and enjoy your free time? Here you will find many great offers from the University of Mainz.

Leisure

Sport

Do you want to move more? Then you can find the list of our university sports here.

We also have many interesting study groups. There is something for everyone.

GIS

The Gutenberg International School and the International Affairs Department are important contacts for all our international students. There are many great offers here and it's always worth keeping an eye on the website to make sure you don't miss anything.

Examination registrations/ de-registrations

Exams

At the Johannes Gutenberg University in the Faculty of Law 03, there are various examination options and certificates of achievement that form an important part of your studies. In this section, we explain how you can register for the exams and what steps you need to take.

Registration for examinations

One important piece of information first: You will be automatically registered for the exams of your study plan. This means that you do not have to take any further steps to be admitted to these exams. The registration takes place within the framework of the regular course registration and is coordinated by the International Law Office.

However, you must register independently for non-subject-related events or events of the ISSK (Internationales Studien- und Sprachenkolleg). These are special courses or workshops that do not belong to the Department of Law. The registration procedures for these events may vary, so it is important that you find out in good time about the exact steps you need to take to register for these additional offers.

Invitation deadline

You are usually invited to take the exams in the winter semester from mid-December to the beginning of January. This gives you enough time to prepare for the exams and organise your exam schedule.

Please make sure you read your emails and communications from the university carefully so that you don't miss any important information about your exams. If you have any further questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact us.

The summons period for exams is usually one to two weeks. This means that you usually have enough time to prepare for the upcoming exams once you have received your summons. It is advisable to use this time efficiently and create a structured exam plan to ensure that you are well prepared. If there are any changes or special circumstances that affect the summons deadline, we will inform you in good time.

Forms of examination

The type of exam you take depends on your lecturer. Some prefer oral exams, where you demonstrate your knowledge in a personal conversation. Others prefer group oral exams, where you are tested together with other exchange students. Still others prefer written exams. An oral exam is also possible in MS teams. It is also possible that you will have to hand in a written paper (Hausarbeit). You are welcome to talk to your lecturer about the forms of examination and perhaps also express your wishes. You will be informed of the exact form of the examination either at the beginning of the semester or, at the latest, with the invitation to the examination.

The examinations within the framework of the Zwischenprüfung (ZP) usually take place on the dates set for the Zwischenprüfung. The International Office for Law contacts the chairs and determines the examination date in consultation with you. As soon as the date is fixed, you will receive an official invitation from us with all the important details. This invitation also serves as confirmation of your registration for the exam.

No more than two exams can be taken per day. We recommend taking a break of at least half an hour between exams. If this is not possible, please contact us. We will try to find a solution.

Notification and grades

The grades of your exams are recorded by the respective chairs and forwarded to the International Law Office. We make sure that the grades are reliably forwarded to you so that you can keep track of your study progress.

Non-participation in examinations

If you decide not to take a certain exam, it is important that you inform the International Office Law in good time by e-mail.

The last date for notification is 01.12.2023.

Please send the message to the following address: erasmus-jura@uni-mainz.de.

Please enter "Prüfungsabmeldung" and your last name in the subject line of the e-mail. For example, Max Mustermann, who would like to deregister from an exam, should use "Prüfungsabmeldung-Mustermann" as the subject. We will then take the necessary steps.

In case of non-attendance due to illness or non-attendance after you have received the invitation to your exam, we require a medical certificate. In any case, please inform the chair and the International Office Law.

We hope that this information will help you to plan and take the exams at our university. If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact us by email or in person. We are here for you!

Examination repetition

If you fail an exam, you have the option of repeating it once. These retakes usually take place during the semester break. This gives you the opportunity to deepen your knowledge and skills and improve your exam result. Please note that the exact dates and requirements for the repeat examinations depend on the respective dates of the lecturers. If you have any questions or uncertainties, please contact the International Office Law.

Early correction for ERASMUS students

We understand that at most partner universities the next academic year starts earlier than in Germany. We therefore try to ensure that the examination results are usually available by the end of February. We will inform the chairs accordingly and ask for their cooperation.

To support this process, we would also like to ask you to indicate on the cover page of your written exams that you need a pre-correction. This allows the examiners to prioritise your exams and ensure that the results are available in time for your transcript.

We will do our best to support you during your ERASMUS study visit and hope that these measures will contribute to a smooth transition to your home university. If you have any further questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact us.

End of the semester:

Transcripts and certificates

2. performance records: Transcripts and certificates

We know how important it is that you receive the appropriate transcripts and certificates at the end of your stay at Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz to officially document your academic achievements. In this section we would like to inform you about how you can obtain these documents from us.

Transcript of Records (ToR)

At the end of your stay at the Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz, you will receive a Transcript of Records (ToR). You submit this document to your home university to prove that you have successfully completed your courses and exams.

At present, the ToR is handed out to you by the International Law Office after you have passed your exams and, if applicable, obtained your Scheiner. You will receive a printout of the ToR with signature or a pdf document by email.

Request for certificates

If you need further certificates during or after your stay at the Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz, you can apply for them if necessary. The International Law Office will be happy to help you and will issue the required documents upon request.

We want to make sure that you receive all the necessary documents to make your study stay successful and to document your experience at Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz at your home university. Therefore, we ask you to keep your data in Jogustine up to date at all times. You can also create your exmatriculation certificate yourself via Jogustine.

Please contact the International Law Office if you have any questions or need assistance with the time-critical preparation of the certificates.
